This may include sharing information with other companies, lawyers, agents, or government agencies. Nothing in this Privacy Notice is intended to limit any legal defenses or objections that you may have to a third party's, including a government's, request to disclose your information.

Aggregated Non-Personal Data: We may disclose aggregated, non-personal data received from providing the Services, including information that does not identify any individual, without restriction. Ford Meter Box may share demographic information with business partners, but it will be aggregated and de-personalized, so that personal information is not revealed.

Your Rights As A California Resident

Effective on January 1, 2020, the California Consumer Privacy Act (CCPA) provides consumers (California residents) with specific rights regarding their personal information. If you reside in California, you may exercise the following rights.

1. Access to specific information and data portability rights

You have the right to request that we disclose to you your personal information we have collected about you over the past 12 months from the day of your request. Once we receive and confirm your request, we will disclose to you:

- The categories of personal information we collected about you.

- Our business and commercial purposes for collecting or selling that personal information.
- The categories of third parties with whom we shared that personal information.
- The specific pieces of personal information we collected about you.
- If we "sold" (as this term is defined by the CCPA, which means "selling, renting, releasing, disclosing, disseminating, making available, transferring, or otherwise communicating orally, in writing, or by electronic or other means, a consumer's personal information by the business to another business or a third party for monetary or other valuable consideration") or disclosed your personal information for a business purpose, two separate lists disclosing:
 - "sales", identifying the personal information categories that each category of recipient "purchased"; and
 - disclosures for a business purpose, identifying the personal information categories that each category of recipient obtained.

2. Deletion request rights

You have the right to request that we delete any of personal information data that we collected from you and retained, subject to certain Exceptions (as listed below). Once we receive and confirm your request, we will delete your personal information from our records unless an Exception applies.

We may deny your deletion request if retaining the information is necessary for us or our Service Provider(s):

- to complete the transaction for which we collected the personal information, provide a good or service that you requested, take actions reasonably anticipated within the context of our ongoing business relationship with you, or otherwise perform our contract with you;

 - to enable solely internal uses that are reasonably aligned with consumer expectations based on your relationship with us;
 - to comply with a legal obligation; or
 - to make other internal and lawful uses of that information that are compatible with the context in which you provided it.

To exercise your rights described above, please submit a request to us by either:

we will select a format to provide your personal information that is readily useable and should allow you to transmit the information from one entity to another entity without hindrance.

We do not charge a fee to process or respond to your request unless it is excessive, repetitive, or manifestly unfounded. If we determine that the request warrants a fee, we will tell you why we made that decision and provide you with a cost estimate before completing your request.
